

Interactive comment on “Areal-averaged trace gas emission rates from long-range open-path measurements in stable boundary layer conditions” by K. Schäfer et al.

Anonymous Referee #2

Received and published: 5 April 2012

The authors' comment on my referee comment is mostly based on their assumption that my review was done using an old version of the manuscript. This is not the case! My review was solely based on the discussion paper as published in AMTD. Instead of answering to my comments they try to convince the reader that the review was done incorrectly. I hereby urgently request the authors to come up with statements that refer to my comments.
