

Interactive comment on “Arctic ozone loss in Siberia in 2011 and 2012” by V. Dorokhov et al.

O. Torres (Editor)

omar.torres-2@nasa.gov

Received and published: 28 May 2013

Dear V. Dorokhov and co-authors,

The two reviews agree on the basic point that, as currently presented, the manuscript ‘Arctic ozone loss in Siberia in 2011 and 2012’ is not ready for final publication. In my opinion, the paper should be entirely re-written since it will take a lot of work to modify the current version following the referees suggested guidelines. I am therefore recommending that the manuscript be withdrawn. Once modified, the authors are encouraged to re-submit the paper as a new submission if they wish to do so.

Sincerely,

Omar Torres AMT Associate Editor

Full Screen / Esc

Printer-friendly Version

Interactive Discussion

Discussion Paper

Interactive
Comment

Full Screen / Esc

Printer-friendly Version

Interactive Discussion

Discussion Paper

C1110

