Thank you for your comments and suggestions on this paper. Unfortunately, due to several factors, such as job relocation and government shutdown, we were unable to get a detailed list of replies back to your comments before the deadline which is 27 November 2013. However, we did make significant modifications and additions to the paper which we believe will answer many of the comments that you made. Please see the revised paper which is attached. All the bold text indicates new (revised or
