

Interactive comment on “Odin-OSIRIS detection of the Chelyabinsk meteor” by L. A. Rieger et al.

O. Torres (Editor)

omar.o.torres@nasa.gov

Received and published: 15 January 2014

The analysis of this interesting event could be extended by performing the standard OSIRIS retrieval to produce extinction estimates. These values, although subject to uncertainties, could serve as an upper (lower?) limit of the stratospheric aerosol load produced by this stratospheric aerosol episode, and compared to OMPS results.

Interactive comment on Atmos. Meas. Tech. Discuss., 6, 8435, 2013.