

Interactive comment on “Re-evaluating the Frankfurt isothermal static diffusion chamber for ice nucleation” by J. Schrod et al.

R. Jaenicke

jaenicke@uni-mainz.de

Received and published: 3 December 2015

I do recommend to iron the phrasing. It might confuse readers. As an example might serve: "Many aerosol particles such as mineral dust and primary biological particles have been identified as ice nucleators, yet the 25 measured abundance of such INP does not jibe with observed macroscopic features of clouds, wherein a host of complicated and dynamic interactions lead to ice parti-"

Interactive comment on Atmos. Meas. Tech. Discuss., 8, 12525, 2015.