I would suggest that you change "small airborne platform" to "medium-sized airborne platform" or similar. Have a look at airborneresearch.org.au to see what "small" (manned airborne platform) means - including for the same type of measurements you are presenting. Apart from that, your paper is great.

Best wishes from the co-developer of the BATprobe you are flying. It probably still
